500 Miners Quit in U.S. Lumber Plant Fire

Spectacular Fire Destroys City Lumber Building, Large Stock of Materials

Suspect Arson in Big Blaze

By Jack Deakin

Forcing three families to flee their dwellings and move furniture into the street, a spectacular fire late Friday destroyed the P. Manning Lumber Co. Ltd. warehouse and offices, 104 st. and 50 ave.

Fifth major blaze in south Edmonton since last March, the roaring inferno caused damage estimated at $80,000. Loss included much hard-to-get building materials. Hundreds of district residents watched the flames and smoke belch 150 to 200 feet into the air. Loss was fully covered by insurance.

It was the second time within a few months that firemen had been called to the lumberyard. Previously a small building on the premises caught fire, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

Det. Insp. Bert Petheram announced at noon Saturday that police were investigating the possibility of arson in connection with the fire. He said certain information received gave suspicion that the fire was deliberately set.

Housed in the frame structure, according to George Manning, son of Percy Manning, president of the firm, was a large amount of scarce materials recently ordered by city builders. He said "Only Thursday we unloaded a carload of roofing material and stored it in the building."

Besides the main building, which was a large, modern structure, small sheds and a few old stacks of lumber were lost. Included in the small building destroyed was a garage in which a truck was burned. Mr. Manning stated about 250,000 feet of lumber dry-laid in the main building, and a few minor damages, and much of it could be salvaged.

First noticed about 11:00 p.m., the fire quickly gained a strong hold on the lumber yard. Within five minutes, the flames were in the main structure. It is believed that the fire started in the main structure. It is believed that the fire started in the main structure. It is believed that the fire started in the main structure.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Negotiations on John I. Lewis' demands for higher coal mine pay recessed in "delicate shape" and the government reported Saturday 5,700 miners already had quit work because of "unrest."

When the government and United Mine Workers negotiators wound up four hours of talk and quit until Monday, an interior department official told reporters "The situation is in such a delicate shape they will not say anything."

The solid fuel administration said 42 mines were made idle by 5,700 men staying away from work, 28 west Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. It cited "unrest."

This government agency said 21 west Virginia mines closed because of what it termed a misunderstanding through radio broadcasts of the status of the government-U.M.W. working contract.

Some of the miners were reported to have explained their move was not a strike, but a "no contract, no work" but Mr. Lewis had stated the striking contract remains in effect during the negotiations from Indiana and Ohio, too, came reports of a mine here and there closing down.

Coal mine owners, meanwhile, cited those in the government who they said had "knuckled under" to Mr. Lewis in dealing with the miners' demands.

Those attending opening negotiations here, which this far have staved off the threat of a general pre-election strike, would not even specify what Mr. Lewis is asking for his 400,000 soft coal miners.

Los' Plane Found Safe on Airport

TORONTO, (CP)—Two hundred searchers led by provincial police beat through dense brush near Campbellville, Ont., Saturday in search of a two-passenger aircraft reported overdue and believed down—but at the time the plane and its passengers were safe in Hamilton.

Police launched the search when they were advised by a radio range station that an R.C.A.P. plane had ditched a distress flare.

How the story started—who was the pilot who saw what little light there was, who then called the search was called off after news arrived that G. Kenneth Wray (Montreal) had sent his plane down in Hamilton at 5:15 p.m. Friday.

Laborites Gain 159 Seats In British Municipal Voting

LONDON, (CP)—The Labor party swept Friday's municipal council elections, building up its local control in many British cities to a point where it almost matched the party's parliamentary strength.

A sudden Saturday morning report from 219 of the 300 cities and towns which held elections showed that Labor had gained 297 seats and lost 98 for a net gain of 199. Conservatives held their own, getting 129 seats and losing 132. Independents, most of whom have been in the minority since 1935, lost 12 seats and picked up only 11, for a net loss of 12.

Communist, in their strongest bid for far local voting, picked up only one new seat, but secured six which they had held previously. The Liberals gained 11 new seats but lost 36, for a net loss of 25.

Morgan Phillips, Labor party secretary, said the absence of usable Conservative seats in the cities was "no sign of the much-awaited party comeback, and indeed, the party is still far from a majority."

Legion at Lloydminster Plans New Memorial Hall

LYDDMINSTER.—The Lloydminster Canadian Legion Memorial hall building fund—its objective about $35,000—was given a substantial boost by the Elks lodge here recently. A cheque for $1,195 was presented to the Memorial hall committee.

Presentation was made by Robert (Bob) Noyes, exalted ruler of the lodge in the lodge hall. The cheque for the proceeds of the annual sports day was presented to Wilfred Stewart, treasurer of the Memorial hall building fund.

In accepting the cheque, Eric Stuart, president of the Legion branch, expressed on behalf of the Legion deepest appreciation for the splendid co-operation of the Elks. He urged that all members of the Legion and residents of the district continue to do their utmost so that

Chickens Flown To Yellowknife

PEACE RIVER.—When a Peace River Northern Airlines plane took off from the airport here recently for Yellowknife, N.W.T., it carried an unusual cargo—900 two-months-old chickens.

The chickens were consigned to C. B. Bevan and K. D. Dods who are starting a chicken ranch at the northern mining center. Only one of the 900 chicks transported in 82 crates was reported as casualty when they reached Yellowknife.

Apport here has been the scene of increasing activity during the past few months and recently in one day five transport aircraft were at the field overnight.

C. P. A. Also operates planes through here regularly, making return trips from Edmonton to Yellowknife three times a week.

Improved Service Given Vermilion

VERMILION.—A quicker and more convenient train service is provided by the Canadian National Railways. Announcement of the new service was made here by Frank Keefe, general superintendent of the Alberta division.

The service is mostly for passengers and provides a run to Edmonton of three hours and 55 minutes. The train operates daily except Wednesdays.

Train leaves Vermilion at 8:05 a.m. and arrives in Edmonton at noon. It leaves Edmonton on the return trip at 8:00 a.m. and is back in Vermilion at 8:35 p.m.

Platoon Winner Of Keay Shield

GRANDE PRATRIE.—Grande Prairie Platoon of "D" Loy 82nd Edmonton regiment journeyed to Valhalla centre and was back the Keay shooting club from the Valhalla platoon by the narrow margin of eight points.

Covered shield was won from Grande Prairie about a year ago and although several attempts were made to bring the trophy back to Grande Prairie, this was the first time the local platoon was able to outshoot Valhalla.

Last winter "D" Company got into the money on the out of three shoots in the Dominion Rifle association indoor competition.

Following is the score of the Keay Shield shoot: Grande Prairie Platoon—Sgt. P. Wright 94 percent, Cpl. W. Blain 88 percent, Pte. R. Gaud 81 percent, Pte. J. Patters 80 percent, Pte. J. Shields 74 percent, Pte. G. Duncan 72 percent.

Valhalla platoon—Lieut. D. O. Brandt 86 percent, Pte. B. Burdick 85 percent, Pte. H. Pearson 83 percent, Sgt. H. Kenna 79 percent, Cpl. P. Leberg 79 percent, Pte. L. Brattland 67 percent.

Jim Falls Heads Caf Feeding Club

HIVIERE QUI RANDE.—Caf Feeding club here held its first club meeting recently. The club was organized by District Agricultural Officers included: president, Jim Falls; vice-president, Edna Blythe; secretary, Gerie Sheehan; Elks and Prudent Bled were named club leaders.

Funeral Services For J.S. Stogrin

SMOKY LAKE.—Funeral services were held recently from the Ukrainian Orthodox church for John S. Stogrin, pioneer resident of the district. Service was conducted by Rev. W. Stenstrom.

Mr. Stogrin was well known for his organization of the school district and his active participation in the organization of the municipal district at Smoky Lake.

Last respects were paid by a large number of his relatives who attended the church and graveside service.

Homewives of Jalisco, Mexico, must now the up to get away.

Julian Honeymoon Ends in Tragedy

Edward Beach, 35, of New York, is shown, left, as he related the tragic story of his wife's brutal murder in a desolate section of Mexico by armed bandits. The couple were on a honeymoon trip up a stream which natives call, ironically, the "River of No Return." They had planned to make their home in Mexico after the trip. The 18-year-old bride, the former Nancy Palmer, right, was fatally shot by the bandits.

Tourists Engage In Currency Trade

PARIS, (CP)—Around the Opera and Place de la Madeleine, stable men sidle up to foreign travellers and obvious tourists to ask in halting English: "Anything to sell?"

Jewelry, cameras, clothing—anything of considerable value—can be sold there but the big demand is for foreign currency and travellers' cheques. British £1 notes in lots of 20 bring anything up to 800 francs apiece, though the official rate is only 480. United States dollars are worth double the official value.

Next to the almost-open street sale of American currency at 140 francs ($120) a package, this is probably the most profitable black market in Paris. Everyone knows it and the "going" rate for currency is common knowledge.

Limited to $20

The British tourist is limited to $5 ($20) in currency when he leaves home but many manage to smuggle out some extra money to swell their one-year quota of $75 in travellers' cheques for foreign travel.

80 many British travellers have been living luxuriously in resort hotels in Southern France that British treasury officials have started an investigation. Some are borrowing from continental friends who are paid back when they come to Britain. Others exchange holidays with French families, taking their holidays as guests and later returning the hospitality.

"Neither of these systems is illegal, but each is definitely contrary to the spirit of the regulations," said a treasury official. "We just have to trust the traveller not to spend abroad more than the £75 which the government has decided the country can afford."

Tales of currency manipulation are rampant. One published story mentioned a dicker in Swiss francs, re-neged as one of the strongest currencies on the continent.

HALF-HEARTEDLY these girls smile as they hold their frog entries prior to International Bullfrog Derby in Crowley, La. It's a yearly event.

RECONVERSION — Miss Harjet Simpson, Cambridge, Mass., preparing to embark on the Queen Elizabeth, looks for the initials she carved on the ship when she went to England as a Wac in 1944.

A DEGREE FOR HERSEY—John Hersey, left, famed author of "A Bell For Adano" and "Hiroshima," chats with Arkansas Sen. J. William Fulbright after they both received honorary degrees at the inauguration of James Herbert Case, as president of Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa.

"GOT A PENCIL?" is a question William Hausman of Chicago never has to ask. Here he holds a part of his collection of more than 25,000. He has them in all sizes and shapes. In length, they range from one-fourth of an inch to 12 feet. The gun in his left hand is a pencil too.

NO DICE—Trying to gather material at the United Nations General Assembly for her current events class at New York University, Vivienne Daniels runs into a stone wall in the form of the grim Marine, Pvt. Kenneth Roberts, Jacksonville, Fla. No amount of cute persuasion can convince the guard that one little peek into the conference room wouldn't hurt.

SNOOPER—Gallant Bess does a little snooping of her own in the Binghamton Press newsroom in Binghamton, N. Y. The Hollywood horse is on a nationwide tour and here becomes quite friendly with the paper's librarian, Lovina Pichan. A crowd of 5,000 jammed the city square to see the famed gelding.

NORMAN CORWIN pauses for photographers as he arrives at La Guardia Field from round the world tour. Corwin said East-West relations were better.

THE ARMY'S "MOUNTIES"—The MP, a sometimes fearsome character to GIs on the loose, is doubly fearsome now for he does his patrolling with a horse. At least that's the situation at Fort Belvoir, Va., where the entire post is patrolled by armed night riders.

SCHOOL TEACHER—Mrs. Elizabeth Grey Vining, American tutor to Crown Prince Akihito of Japan, leaves the Emperor's Palace in Tokyo after being given an audience with the Emperor, Empress and the Crown Prince. Mrs. Vining's secretary, Miss Tanaka, carries a bouquet of flowers which the Emperor presented to the American teacher.

JUST LIKE PRE-WAR PARIS—The parade of the clowns goes through the Velodrome d'Hiver, during the annual fest of the "Claf Come." The festivity is a mixture of music hall and circus entertainment. Photo by Acme Photographer, Reginald Kenny.

IN BEHALF OF EUROPE'S YOUNG—Dr. Howard E. Kershner, vice chairman of New York's Save the Children Federation, speaks at ceremony in Paris dedicating the 1000th school sponsored by American institutes of learning. This particular school is sponsored by Sweet Briar College, Va.

Edmonton
The Capital and Educational Centre of Alberta

EDMONTON, capital of the Province of Alberta already rich in tradition, is enjoying an era of almost unprecedented development and expansion and looks to the future with reasonable confidence and expectation that it will be an increasingly important industrial, commercial, agricultural and strategic centre of the Dominion.

The story of this city is comparatively short when measured by the steady march of centuries, but in the space of only a few years when placed against the beginning of history, amazing accomplishments stand to the credit of those who have contributed to its up-building.

It is a far cry from pioneer days of 1848 to the Edmonton of today, with a population of about 115,000, with wide streets, boulevards that stretch green and grassy for miles; fine homes, modern up-to-date buildings; excellent stores; banks; hotels; theatres; churches; colleges; and a university; a widely-praised public school system; several railroads; thousands of automobiles. In brief, a city with all the advantages and conveniences of modern life.

[illegible][illegible]

Edmonton is an educational and cultural centre. The University of Alberta stands high among Canadian Universities; music, drama, dancing, literature, and all forms of cultural endeavor flourish and receive encouragement from constituted authority and patronage from the public.

Edmonton is a city of splendid homes, attractive architecture, finish and surroundings. Much has been done to make the city a pleasant place in which to live and enjoy outdoor recreation. About 1,600 acres of public park space has been set aside and it has been so allocated that every section of the city is served with playgrounds close at hand.

One of the city's most outstanding features is its supreme fitness as a trade and commercial centre. All discerning minds that have been associated with Edmonton since its earliest days have come to the same conclusion: that the fresh fields for commercial enterprises, bankers looking for new locations for financial institutions; investors trailing opportunity; railroads directed by men with visions of transportation triumphs, all have turned the eye of enterprise on Edmonton.

Tourists are being attracted in greater numbers. The city stands at the air crossroads of the world and only recently was selected as the one Canadian stopping place on a new air route to the Orient. During the war, many thousands of United States citizens were stationed here. All went back home with glowing tales of the great new country still in its infancy. Many already have come back to make their homes here, and many more plan to come.

Situated in one of the best agricultural and mineral areas in the world, Edmonton truly is heir to the kingdom of commerce; inheritor of Nature's bounty and of the cumulative work of men throughout succeeding generations who lived and labored for community benefits since the first voyageurs on the Saskatchewan picked this site as one of progress and prosperity.

Edmonton has come far and done much since the time when its name meant only a small trading post in a new country. In addition to accomplishments of the city and its people to date, the future appears to hold more promise.

One does not need to be a prophet to forecast that Edmonton will take a place of ever-increasing importance in Canadian life as time goes by.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stanley Russell are shown above with their attendants immediately after their recent wedding in St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Spruce Grove. Left to right: Mr. Milton Guebel, brother of the bride, Mr. Arnold Saujard, groomsmen; the groom, the bride, Miss Phyllis Guebel, sister of the bride, and Miss Hazel Russell, who were bridesmaids. In the extreme left are Master J. M. Stephenson and little Marilyn Wilber, train-bearers. The former Miss Dorothy Jeanne Guebel, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Guebel, of Spruce Grove, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Russell, of Tompkins, Sask.—Photograph by Housner Studios.

Mr. James Allan Brown, and his bride, the former Miss Vera Waters, are shown above leaving Knox United church in Calgary immediately after their wedding there recently. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Waters, of Calgary, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown, of Edmonton. The newweds spent their honeymoon at Banff and Lake Louise and are now residing in Edmonton where the groom is lecturing in Civil Engineering at the University of Alberta.

Will Your Marriage Be a Success... or a Failure? Sociologist Lists the Factors That Decide This

Will your marriage be a Romeo and Juliet idyll... or a Magpie and Junco relationship? Will it lead to a golden wedding celebration... or to the divorce courts?

Since the 20th century has produced no sex able to make such predictions, many sociologists are trying to isolate and label the ingredients that make for a happy marriage.

One of these, Dr. Ernest W. Burgess, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, has found a number of factors he considers of greatest importance. These are: family background, social participation, economic status, personality adjustment and engagement relationship.

Similar Backgrounds Best
Similarity of cultural backgrounds is favorable, Dr. Burgess says, and wide dissimilarity is unfavorable to marital adjustment.

Similarity in family background is also an asset. Dr. Burgess says, for young people coming from happy homes are much more likely to succeed in their marriages than those from unhappy homes.

If both parties to the marriage take part in social activities outside their home, he says, success in marriage is favored. The more devoted the person is to religious observances, as indicated by church attendance, marriage by a minister, and a church wedding, the more favorable are his chances for marital happiness.

Best "Prospects"
As far as economic status is concerned, chemical engineers, ministers and college professors are the best husband "prospects." Musicians, travelling salesmen, truck drivers—or any man who changes jobs, homes and communities frequently—are the worst.

Other economic factors related to marital adjustment are a moderate income at marriage rather than a high or low one, a regular work record and savings before marriage by both bride and bridegroom.

Coming to personality adjustment, Dr. Burgess says that the optimistic temperament is favorable and the pessimistic temperament unfavorable.

The engagement relationship is also of great importance, Dr. Burgess stresses. Marriages of instantation, he declares, are those of love at first sight, are less likely to turn out successfully than those based upon the affection which develops out of companionship.

Mr. Donald Lottor Yates, and his bride, the former Miss Violet Grace Walton, are shown after their wedding recently in Grace Lutheran church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Yates, of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Walton, of Bentley. The newweds are making their home in Edmonton.—Photograph by Housner Studios.

Mr. Charles Leslie Noll and his bride, the former Miss Ellen Joyce Murray, who were married in a recent ceremony in McDonald Baptist church. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray, of Edmonton, and the groom is a son of Mr. C. Noll, also of this city. The newweds spent a honeymoon in Calgary and are now residing in Edmonton.—Photograph by Sigrist Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Theodore Tym are shown above after their recent wedding in St. Joseph's Cathedral. The bride, the former Miss Pearl Kiska, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kiska, of Banff, Alta., and the groom is a son of Mr. J. Tym, of Edmonton. The newweds have taken up residence in Inuvik.—Photograph by Gortz Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schults are shown after their wedding at Grace Lutheran church. The bride is the former Ruth Lucille Kulas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kulas of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Mr. P. Schults of Edmonton, and the late Mr. Schults. The couple will reside in Edmonton.—Photograph by Sigrist Studio.

Mr. John Prinsmann and his bride, the former Miss Anne Rustash, who were married recently in the Lutheran Church (Evangelical) church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Rustash, of 1902 44 st., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prinsmann, of Ansdere. The newweds are making their home in Edmonton.—Photograph by Deaglan's studio.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Eliason are shown after their wedding which took place in the Bethesda Lutheran church, Eau Claire, Wisconsin. The bride, the former Miss Arline Gjervsen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gjervsen, of Eau Claire, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eliason of Wetaskiwin. The newweds have taken up residence in Wetaskiwin.
